

Tumbled Gems of Lake Superior near Superior, Wisconsin

Written by Scott Thomas

The majestic Lake Superior was calm on that warm May morning. The unusual calm surface of that great body of cold clear water was like a pane of glass, as a warming sun rose in the eastern sky. The rippling surface, where this great body of water greeted a deserted beach, magnified the limitless abundance of vibrant gems. The full colored palette of nature painted a beautiful shoreline that morning.
